RE: APPOINTMENT OF CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

DATE: 19TH MAY 2022

The Board of Kenya Medical and Supplies Authority (KEMSA) wishes to notify all staff of the appointment of Ms. Terry Kiunge Ramadhani as the Chief Executive Officer of KEMSA.

Ms. Terry Kiunge Ramadhani takes office effective immediately replacing the outgoing CEO Dr. Jonah Manjari and takes over from the current acting CEO John Kabuchi.

Ms. Terry Kiunge Ramadhani has more than 19 years' experience driving strategy and people operations. She holds a Master of Business Administration from the University of Liverpool, Adaptive Leadership Certification from the Harvard Kennedy School and a Bachelor of Education from Kenyatta University. She is a certified Project Management professional and a member of the Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development (CIPD).

Ms. Terry has held several strategic and leadership positions in the health sector both in Public and Private. Citing a few, she has served as a Director, Academic Administration Health Services for East Africa and Director, Academy HR and Global Change at Aga Khan University for the last 10 years.

Ms. Terry has also worked as a Senior Director, President's Delivery Unit which offered her a front row seat to understanding how critical the achievement of Universal Health Coverage (UHC) is to the Government of Kenya.

Most recently, before her resignation, Ms. Terry served as a Board member of KEMSA. Her experience spearheading the reform journey in KEMSA provided her with an in-depth knowledge of what ails KEMSA and a clear vision of what needs to be fixed.

We warmly welcome Ms. Terry Kiunge Ramadhani back to KEMSA and to this new role. We believe that the Authority will reach new heights under her strong leadership and request that you all extend your support to her.

Yours faithfully,

Ms. Mary Chao Mwadime
Chairperson, Board of Directors
